

Senator Estes Kefauver Visits SMC Campus

"Improvement in the Democratic side of the political organization" and the "chance of unlimited consideration" were statements of the Democratic Vice-Presidential Candidate, Sen. Estes Kefauver, in his Monday visit to the St. Michael's College campus, sponsored by the Politics Club.

Upon his arrival at the Burlington Airport at 11:05 A.M., where the Senator had a short conference, he then proceeded to Essex Junction for his first visit in the State of Vermont. After a brief rally there, the party advanced to the College which saw them arrive at 12:15 P.M. Greeted by Fr. T. Donald Sullivan, SSE, head of the Biology Department, who, in the absence of our President, the Very Rev. Francis E. Moriarty, SSE, officially welcomed the Vice-Presidential nominee to St. Michael's College.

CANDIDATES INTRODUCED

Having completed a brief speech, the Senator went on to exchange greetings with the onlookers and other candidates of the Democratic Party in Vermont were introduced to the crowd. Of all personalities, a former Michaelman, Sen. E. Frank Brannon, Democratic Candidate for Governor of Vermont was especially greeted by the SMC students.

Leaving the campus saw Sen. Kefauver, amusingly, throw a football a couple of times to one of the students. The Tennessean said "I like it very much."

IMPORTANCE

In this event, which undoubtedly highlights campus activities as far as the beginning of this year, a substantial vote of praise is given to the Politics Club. As a result of this history-making affair, there is possibly a certain increase in strengthening the Democratic side on campus. Considering the number of employees and students, chances may arise where a doubtful voter maybe convinced in the November 6 elections, both national and state.

Lance Holds First Meeting

On Wednesday the College's literary quarterly, THE LANCE, held its initial meeting of the year. Editor George Little remarked that he had anticipated a larger attendance but in the group present he could already visualize a stimulating, diversified Autumn issue.

After briefly commenting on the past glories and present problems of THE LANCE, and polling the future staff members to determine their talents or particular interests, the new editor opened the floor for discussion on how to awake the literary muse on campus.

DISCUSSION

Most of the suggestions came from the magazine's newly-appointed moderator, Father Paul Gopaul, S.S.E. His plans include:

- 1) Invitations to faculty members to serve as an Editorial Board.
- 2) Reorganization of the Writers' Club.
- 3) Monthly publication of student contributions. The most outstanding would be awarded points toward the in-class trophy and be subsequently published in THE LANCE.

AUTUMN ISSUE

The future staff's proposals centered around better advertising. They urged use of the campus radio station and the student newspaper plus personally "talking up" THE LANCE with friends and acquaintances.

NFCCS Schedules Workshop Here Sunday

As a function of the weekend of the National Federation of Catholic College Students, now being conducted on campus, the Industrial Relations Commission will hold its first workshop on Sunday at 1:30 P.M., in Science Hall 107. The commission is seated at St. Michael's and has as its general theme, "To The American Public Belongs Social Justice."

Republicans Unite To Form Club Here

Sophomore John Murray, under the direction of Dr. Spencer, is forming a Republican Club on campus for those who politically are Republicans or independents. The first meeting will be held October 18, in Science Hall, room 307. Murray will be acting president for this meeting.

REPUBLICANS WELCOME

"There are no special requirements for joining this club except an interest in politics and the Republican party," Murray revealed.

He further added that the main object of forming this club will be to enable students to familiarize themselves with the Republican Party and at the same time, to gain some knowledge of politics. One of the highlights of the club's activities will be the debates with the Democratic Club, which is also under the direction of Dr. Spencer.

WILL AROUSE INTEREST

Dr. Spencer stated that he personally feels that the men on St. Michael's campus are not as good politicians as they could be. "This," he said, "is probably due to the fact that many do not know what the Republican and Democratic party represent. These clubs may arouse some interest among these silent politicians, if they join and attend the meetings."

"The purpose of this workshop is to provide the student with a deeper insight and greater knowledge of the Catholic attitude and doctrine on Labor-Management relations," Terry O'Grady, commission chairman, pointed out. "It will deal specifically with defining Social Justice and the rights and obligations of man accompanying this principle in accordance with fundamental contemporary problems."

FEATURES THREE SPEAKERS

The speakers for the workshop will be Mr. Armand Gianelli, Fr. Edmund Hamel and Mr. Joseph Powers.

Mr. Gianelli will give a historical account of development of the basic issues of labor-management relations. He will also outline his opinion on how the Guild system should replace capitalism.

Father Hamel, who is the former Director of the St. Michael's Labor School, will outline labor's feelings on their right to organize and their right to a living wage.

Garrett Tours DES Chapters

Mr. Thomas Garrett, Registrar of SMC and President of Delta Epsilon Sigma, has visited five DES chapters this week between Buffalo, New York, and St. Paul, Minnesota. He will be speaking today at St. Thomas' College in St. Paul, Minnesota, at the college's Homecoming Weekend to bring his trip to a close.

SPEECH

"The first concern of American Catholic higher education should be a radical modification of the program of education we so hastily borrowed from secular institutions in our early beginnings," Mr. Garrett stated in opening his topic for the tour. "The Revolution in Catholic Higher Education." He further declared that the philosophical approach of Catholic Colleges differs sharply from that of secular colleges.

"In recent years Catholic education, which originally rose in this country to help protect the faith of immigrant families," Mr. Garrett pointed out, "has made great progress."

The reformation which Mr. Garrett proposes is to restudy our own Epistemology, and evolve on educational philosophy, psychology, and methodology consonant with both the universal truth we possess, and the American political, social and economical culture in which we live. "The 'free elective' education is not compatible with our aims. The untutored, in his ignorance created a structured, or integrated pattern of learning."

Will You Do Your Part?

The annual Red Cross appeal has once again reached our campus. This year's pledge (150 pints) has been designated in order to help meet the demand for blood in the New Hampshire and Vermont area.

As many Michaelmen as possible are urged to help in this program, which, although it occurs twice a year on campus, is a full-time appeal, necessary to provide this area with some 34,000 pints required annually.

Many have the impression that a blood drive is something that can be overlooked because of the physical results which might occur. Anyone who is physically fit and not under doctor's care will ordinarily replace the liquid part of the blood in 43 hours and the remainder in approximately two months. This should suggest that the replacing of blood is not too difficult in our bodies.

Donating blood in our country is a moral obligation to one's self and also to his neighbor. For example, anyone who will witness an accident, or have a friend seriously injured, would be most apt to donate his blood. Today many are in need of blood and the Red Cross, in order to augment their reserves, has come to us once again to seek the valuable pint from everyone who can give.

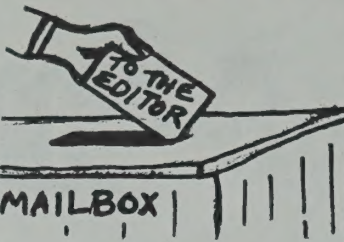

The Red Cross Program has been set up in such a way so as to benefit each person who donates or who maybe in need of blood himself. When someone is injured or operated on, is in need of transfusions and happens to be in any hospital in the U.S. and is need of five pints of blood for transfusion, they are given with no cost except for the actual transfusion itself.

In turn, if he has donated in the blood campaign in Vermont or any other state, the particular chapter will replace the five pints in whatever hospital he received them. This blood bank program has proved itself highly successful in the past few years and even reached the point of replacing 85 pints of blood required by an individual in an out-of-state hospital.

It should be known that the Red Cross Program is a non-profit organization and employs people who are donating their services to this cause. Judging from the widespread response all over the country, the Red Cross appeal should certainly impress many with the zealous work of the organization both in war and peace. Such incidents as relief for flood and fire victims are also attended to by this volunteer group.

The call is urgent and everyone should do his part. The blood campaign is important to many who, at present, are in distress due to the need of whole blood or its constituent parts.

Remember: The pint you give may save someone at present; some day, someone else's donation may save your life. "Support Your Red Cross....Support The Blood Program."

Dear Sir:

Regarding the current issue of dress trousers in the dining hall, I would like to know whether or not anything will be done about it. The student body in general has been grumbling, but only two students have taken advantage of the editorial page to bring this into the open. Now my question is, "Will the administration ignore this incident or will they give it the sufficient recognition it deserves?" I remain

The Corner Boys

Time out from campus activities.

The Politics Club announced, early this morning, that a torrid political campaign is now being waged in Winooski.

Never before in the history of the teeming metropolis has the outcome of an election caused so much campaigning, enthusiasm and bitterness between the rival factions. The fight for the vote is one of "No holds barred." Every trick of the many years of electioneering "know-how" is being used by the rival parties.

Particularly hard fought is the struggle for control of the territory west of Hood's Crossing.

The burning issue to date is: "Whether to make the French Club a subsidiary of the American Restaurant. It is feared by many that if the American is allowed to pursue these alleged aims, a gigantic "Entertainment-world Monopoly" would engulf the area.

The Corner Boys, shocked by the town's reaction to the proposed plan, sent one of the staff to get an on the spot report of the happenings in the Winooski hot-spot. The report served only to confirm the fears harbored by this Corner for the past three years.

Not until now have we been able to present the facts to you, the reader. In a private interview with Laverne "Pennies from Heaven Girl" Le Due, proprietess of "Le Chat Mort," the popular dining and dancing spot, so familiar to discriminating Winooskites, our reporter become acquainted with the nefarious scheme of a notorious underworld figure, namely, Gaetono "Peddles" La Marca, two-time loser who is now pulling the strings for the local gentry. His plans are to make Winooski the "Vegas" of the Northeast. A word of warning to the Administration....Take Heed.

* * * * *

And now a look at the Home-Front.

Person to Person. This week....We take you to Ryan Hall II and our guest of the week Tab U. Lator.

C.B.: Howdy, Tab.

T.: Howdy

C.B.: Enough of this informal Chit-Chat, Tab. Tell me, just what brought you to Saint Michael's College?

T.: Well, Mr. Murrow, I guess it all started in my home town where I live. I come from Challotte, and down there as soon as a boy is old enough to go to school, he dreams of the day when he can come up to the Hilltop and become a Michaelman.

C.B.; Well spoken, Son. By the way Tab, how did you ever get that unusual name?

T.: Well, Mr. Murrow, I was the fourteenth child in my family and Paw isn't too quick like on names, so he used to use that Sears-Roebuck catalogue. It was either Tab or International Harvester ... and that's a girl's name.

C.B.; Oh?...Yes...Well, no matter, Tab. Tell me, how do you like it up here?

T.: Well, it's a mite colder, but it's a dry cold so I don't mind so bad.

C.B.: Fine, Boy,...Well, Tab, what are your plans for the future?

T.: Well, Mr. Murrow, I'd like to get into the entertainment world.

I know it's tough Mr. Murrow, but as Paw say "Quitters never win and Winners never quit."

C.B.: There's spunk for you....That's it America, Challote's own Tab U. Lator.

Roving Reporter:

Sad but true Department:

The recent riots on campus foretell of things yet to come.

Many well qualified experts feel that the school is a veritable hotbed of emotions. A seething cauldron of resentment that will not be cooled until the long-debated question of what kind of pants to wear to the Chow-Hall is settled. Suez Canal,...Where's That?

That's the 3-0
mark for tonight.

Mr. Powers will outline management's feelings on their right to receive a fair return on their investment and their right to dictate the policies of the company without coercion of closed shop or pressure negotiations.

"As you can readily see we expect this workshop to be of great value to those who attend," stated O'Grady. "Much can be gained from these highly qualified panel members in the way of concrete notions on issues so vital."

An open floor discussion with the speakers will take place after the talks. At this point the audience may raise any questions regarding the proposition.

WSSE Operates WDOT Sun.

On Sunday, October 21, the members of WSSE will once again take over WDOT in Burlington. Different from last year, WSSE will be on WDOT every Sunday, at least until the Christmas vacation.

The reason for this being that WRUV at the University of Vermont is in the process of installing new equipment and they feel that they cannot handle the extra Sunday work. It will be remembered that in the past year WSSE and WRUV alternated at WDOT on Sundays.

STUDENT MANAGEMENT

The fact that WDOT allows complete student management of their station for this one day out of the week offers a great deal of opportunity to the campus radio club members in all the fields of broadcasting.

In programing, the director, knowing he is reaching a wide and varied audience, must make allowance for this when making up his schedule. At the same time, those students having programs get a chance to show their wares over a professional commercial station. These facts show the need for a great deal of time and effort afforded by the announcing staff.

IMPROVING STAFF

The engineers, who are never thought of, (unless they commit an error) must learn the workings of a new board and become skillful at this procedure. This requires close work between the chief engineer and his staff.

It has been proven in the past that WSSE has been capable of performing in a professional manner and, with the improvements that have taken place at the campus station this year, it is felt that the station should do a better job. The most important fact in our favor is a larger announcing staff and engineering staff.

A reminder to the student body that this Sunday WSSE will be broadcasting at 1400 instead of 570 all day from 8 A.M. to 11.

Noted Boychoir Sings Oct. 27 In Burlington

The Columbus Boychoir of 30 voices will sing a program in Burlington's Memorial Auditorium Saturday, October 27 at 8. They also have a program the next afternoon at 2 in Barre.

A Mass for treble voices by Associate Director Donald T. Bryant is also on the program. The program is under the auspices of the Vermont League of Nursing and the Vermont State Nurses Association. Tickets are available at their office, 195 College St., at Bailey's Music Rooms.

St. James Dorm Plans Dinner Series

The students of St. James' dormitory held the first of a series of monthly dinners last Tuesday night in the Lincoln Inn. Father Edward Leary, S.S.E., was the principle speaker while Frank Antos acted as toastmaster.

In his address to the audience of 30 persons, Father Leary spoke of dormitory spirit and campus spirit at St. Michael's. He pointed out that the dinner series was a fine example of true spirit among the residents of St. James.

The dinners are to be held on the last Tuesday of each month and a speaker will be invited to each one as the guest of the dorm. The students fully plan each dinner and finance them by means of a monthly collection.

Autumn Leaves Sophomore Dance On Campus Tonight

A six piece orchestra, "Sig Ep," will supply the music for the Sophomore dance, "Autumn Leaves," to be held in Austin Hall this Saturday night. A stag or drag dance, it will take place from 9:00 p.m. until midnight.

Decorating chairman Neil Shea said that decorations will revolve around the colorful season of autumn. Foilage will be employed in the decorating scheme to add nature's brilliance to the setting.

Members of the fairer sex will be attending the dance from Trinity, Bishop DeGoesbriand, Mt. St. Mary's and Cathedral. Sophomores are hoping for a large attendance of both upperclassmen and Freshmen at the dance.

Tickets may be obtained from salesmen soliciting them on campus or at the door Saturday night. The price of admission is $.50 stag, $1.00 drag

Dr. Rowan Writes Two New Books

Dr. Rowan, Head of the Philosophy Department, is writing two books for press which will probably be published by or before next fall.

Dr. Rowan, in conjunction with Dr. John Kilbridge of Canisius College in Buffalo, is now working on a book called the Philosophy of Education.

BOOK ON EDUCATION

This book which will probably be printed by the Prentiss-Hall Co., deals with the fundamentals of education. Dealing with men's philosophy of education it contains many of the ideas of John Dewey. Dewey, incidentally, is only one of many who have written on the subject but he seems to be the mainstay. The book will be a comparatively simple and concise text presenting the traditional views on Education as opposed to the Pragmatic School.

BOOK EDITED

The second book is a translation of St. Thomas Aquinas commentary on the Metaphysics of Aristotle. This has been completed and is being edited by the Jesuit Fathers at West Baden College.

The volume will be published by the Regnary Company of Chicago and will appear in a series called "Library of Living Catholic Thought." The Regnary Company produces the "Great Books" series which includes the three volumes "On Truth" by St. Thomas Aquinas. This is the first time this book has been translated into English.

The Campus is My Beat By Tom Leavitt

Shades of smoke-filled rooms, twenty-five cent cigars, and petty politics: It seems that some club Prexies are playing cat and mouse with the Student Council and the Club Status Committee. A couple of weeks ago, two Club Presidents, along with three other members of the Council, were removed from the organization because they were on scholastic probation. Well, the three class representatives are through for the year, the Council President says, but not so with the club big-wheels.

It seems that they have fixed things up so that, while it appears that the Clubs have elected new heads, the old pols are working behind the scenes telling their puppets just what to do, and doing it for them sometimes. But this isn't the end of it - they've been given "leaves of absence" by club members, and intend to return in their thrones in November, by which time they hope to be off probation and thus eligible for office.

The temporary Presidents will then be shunted to one side while the chiefs take over again. Of course, this is contrary to Council rules, and is without precedent, but they plan to go ahead just the same.

Lt. Col. Donald J. Quigley is a lot more popular with AFROTC cadets this week, after calling a scheduled drill off so cadets could see the final game of the World Series on October 10. We got a laugh out of it when the Kaydets let out a big cheer as they took off for the TV sets!

Outing Club Members Climb Mt. Mansfield

by Art Kirwin

On Sunday last, a stalwart group of Michaelmen accompanied by a small contingent of Trinity women attempted the traditional assault of Mt. Mansfield, the apex of Vermont. Armed with cameras, strong muscles and a thirst for the outdoors, the party set out by bus for Underhill, a hamlet nestled at the foot of the mountain.

THE HIKE BEGINS

Arriving at 12:30 p.m. the eager band set out from the bus about 2 miles from the base of the mountain and took the Long Trail to the "chin", highest peak of the Vermont cordillera.

As always, there were the leaders and the followers. Among others in the forward party were Seniors Phil Horgan and Art Kirwin, Junior John Steele, Sophomore John Della Ratta and Freshmen Mike Rogan, George Cronin, Ed White, "Red" O'Brien, Al Fallon, Tony Bowen, Al Roy and George Mutrie.

DRAW'S PRAISE

Leading the lady mountaineers was Alice Rooney, who caused many a gape of wonder by her undurance and ability to keep up with the best of the Michaelmen. Jean Mayer and Eileen Murrau earned their climbing badges also.

Admission to the mountain rescue team should be granted to Frosh Joe Maloney and Tom McManus for their courage above and beyond the call of duty in aiding the stragglers from Trinity.

REFRESHMENTS SERVED

It was with great relief that the food-lader Dodge of Jack Keating was sighted at the top of the Toll Road. The apples, sandwiches and coffee from the dining hall tasted like steak to the weary outdoorsmen. Then began the long tread down, which ended in a perfect setting, "Moonlight in Vermont." The hike was sponsored by the Outing Club and if sufficient interest is shown, it will be followed by other similar activities.

top after a three set match. The scores were 6-4, 0-6 and 6-1 which shows that Walt plays well under pressure and will be hard to beat. He has a great ground game and a lot of poise and could be the bread winner for the Sophs. Coonan knocked Paul Ripchik out of the tourney, 6-1, 6-4 and Jamrog beat his classmate Jerry Morissey, 6-4, 6-1. Jamrog looks like the hope of the Senior Class. Dennis Horgan, winner in Wednesday's match with Ben Myatt, 6-1, 4-6, 7-5, is also a mainstay in the Frosh contention.

IN SEVEN DAYS

Weather permitting, next week will be the eventful week. With the goal in sight, and the field narrowed, the competition will be keener. Kennedy, Coonan, Keane, Jamrog, Sagliano, Coffey, and Horgan are names half of which will survive.

Sailors Bow At Boston

The St. Michael's Sailing spent a hectic and slightly disappointing weekend in Boston on their first two away meets losing in the Freshman Eliminations and taking a close fourth in the Associate Member Championships.

WORCESTER TECH WINS

The busy schedule got underway Saturday at the M.I.T. Sailing Pavilion on the Charles River with the Freshmen from Bowdoin, Colby, Dartmouth, Harvard, Middlebury, Worcester Polytech. and St. Michael's competing in a series of 8 races, which were finally won by Tech. Bob Schwenk and John Shea skippered, but their lack of racing experience hampered them greatly along with the adverse sailing conditions.

Sunday found the Varsity traveling just outside of Boston to the Tuft's Yacht Club in Mystic Lake for the Associate Member Championships. Ed Hughes skippered A division with John Shea as crew while the B division chores were shared by Matt Nastasia, John Haggerty and Bob Schwenk. They sailed against the six schools who are Associate members of the N.E. I. S. A.

POOR CONDITIONS

If conditions were bad at M.I.T., they were perfect by comparison to Tufts. The meet got under way about 9:00 with a 1-2 mile breeze which shifted constantly and grew worse as the day wore on. The course was shifted by the race committee to take advantage of the little wind there was, but by the fourth and fifth series it took about an hour for each race. The teams felt it would have been more exact to call the regatta the "Associate Member Drifting Championships."

UVM WINNER

When the results were finally official they showed that Vermont had drifted into first place over Maine by one point. Merrimack was third by the narrow margin of two points over St. Michael's, Colby, fifth and Rhode Island School of Design, sixth.

HOME MEET SAT.

Next weekend won't prove to be less busy, but less traveling is involved. Saturday is another triangular meet at home against Vermont and Middlebury. Sunday SMC meets Dartmouth, Bowdoin, and Middlebury at Lake Dunmore (Middlebury) in the 7th Annual Northern New England Invitational Regatta. The prize is the Admiral H.K. Hewitt Trophy.

Probable skippers Saturday are Jerry Grady and either John Haggerty or Bill Hills, and Ed Hughes.

Viewing the Society of St. Edmund Display at the Vistarama held in Philadelphia this past week are: (l. to r.) Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York, Archbishop Edwin O'Hara of the Buffalo diocese, and Father Francis McMahon, S.S.E., one of the Society's Vocation directors. Attended by more than 500,000 people this spectacle was a fitting display of Catholicism.

CASTLETON HERE SATURDAY

Cross Country Opener Lost 21-35

The St. Michael's College Cross-Country Team lost its opening meet with Norwich at Northfield on Monday afternoon by a score of 21-35. The Knights will be seen on Saturday afternoon in their home opener against Castleton State Teachers College.

TOO MUCH GILMORE

On Monday afternoon the Norwich Kaydets, with Freshman Dave Gilmore setting the pace, proved to be too much for the Michaelmen. Ray Flynn, stalwart of the SMC team, was able to stay within a reasonable distance of Gilmore and second man Bob Morse, but the pace of the former proved to be too much. Gilmore was able to open up a distance of 300 yards between him and Flynn, the first St. Michael's runner to cross the line. The Kaydet Freshman ran the 4 3 mile quarter in the time of 24 minutes and 23 seconds.

"KOOCH" FIFTH

Bill Kuchar ran a steady race finishing fifth and beating Norwich veteran plodder Paul Kavanaugh by 14 seconds in a sprint at the finish. Larry Austin followed Kavanaugh and Pete Russelowski finished 9th behind Don Taylor of the Horses. Junior Dominic Villoni was hampered by a pulled tendon in his leg and did not finish in the first ten nor did John Della Ratta who brought up the rear.

On Saturday Castleton State Teachers' College will be here to try out the new course that has been mapped out by "Doc" Jacobs with the aid of Ray Flynn and Bill Kuchar. This course which includes a run around the campus, a jaunt through the woods and a round trip to the Burlington Airport is a five and a quarter mile beauty.

AROUND THE CAMPUS

The race will start on the field directly in front of the infirmary. The first 800 yards are an encirclement of Ryan and Alumni Halls and the Athletic Field. The runners will then enter the woods to the left of the field. A path has been cut through the woods which will take them out to the Winooski Reservoir. By following the reservoir road, they will come out to the main street coming up from Winooski. This will give the runners a 200 yard climb till they hit level ground.

DIRT HILL TOUGH

At St. Edmund's Hall directly opposite the campus, the Knights and Teachers will turn right and follow the highway out toward the Burlington Airport. About a mile and a half out they will turn left onto a dirt farm road. A steep incline of 200 yards at the end of this road should be the toughest test in the course. The ground at this point has about six inches of loose dirt on the top.

SPRINT EXPECTED

Coming back out onto the Airport Drive, the runners will be able to kick out and move for about 500 yards as the street is paved and mostly downhill. One last hill will remain at this point but the campus will be in sight when they reach the top of it. Here a sprint is expected with the rounding of the field opposite the St Michael's Playhouse. The finish line is exactly where the starting point is - in front of the Infirmary.

ROUTE MARKED

The Knights are going over the course every day and are being timed on it. Saturday there will be red markers out on the route. It is hoped that a good contingent of the student body will be out on the course at various points to give encouragement to the Knights.

NET TOURNEY

FINALS NEXT WEEK

The touch of Indian Summer that we are getting has created quite a bit of activity on the tennis court and eliminations have just about finished. Several matches were played and only a few remain before the successful entrants meet more keen competition in their trek to a final victory. One will be victorious, of course, and because some of the dark horses are really coming along fast, it is a pretty even bet as to who will be champ.

DARK HORSES

During the past week three of the hopefuls, Walt Kennedy, '59, Bob Coonan, '60, and Bob Jamrog, '57, anchored themselves in quarter-final berths with impressive victories. Walt, who was a favorite last week, now looks like a good bet to fight his way into a contending position. Matched with G. Cronin, the second seeded entrant in the tourney, he came out on

Sportscoop

By Jim Breagy

Most of the sport talk around the campus this week seems to be about one Dave Gilmore. Gilmore is the young Norwich Freshman who showed his heels to the St. Michael's Cross-Country Team at Northfield on Monday. Ray Flynn, who has run with the best of them in the past, said that Dave was "probably the best collegiate cross-country runner in New England." It will be interesting to see what the Maine youngster does when he runs the course that has been laid out here. The course up at Northfield is only 4.3 miles long as compared to five and a quarter miles here. Gilmore's time at Norwich was 24:23 and he recently set a record at R.P.I. It is doubtful that he will run this course in less than 26 minutes. Our hope, Messr. Flynn, figures to finish second when the Kaydets come here because last year in the Connecticut Valley Run at UVM he beat Bob Morse, who ran second Monday, by 250 yards.

Getting off the hills and the dales and onto the hardwood, the basketball team started working out Monday evening. The new N.C.A.A. ruling pushed the starting date up from the 1st of November to the 15th of October. This year will be the last for the "Polish Falcons" - Lemanowicz, Cieplicki and Wegrzynski. That, by the way, is something that has puzzled me since I've been up here. Who made up that name?

KNIGHT SHORTS --- Bill Kuchar must have an iron constitution. After running fifth in the cross-country meet at Norwich Monday afternoon, he was right on time Monday night for the initial basketball session. --- I wonder what a very recent predecessor of mine would have said if he could have heard what was said to me over the phone when I was calling in some sailing news to one of the local radio stations. --- We hope that those who don't go over to the Dartmouth-Holy Cross game on Saturday will give the Cross-Country Team a lot of support.

BASKETBALL TEAM

STARTS PRACTICE

The 1956-57 basketball team was off and running again at 8:00 last Monday evening as Doc Jacobs put his fourteen man squad through their initial practice.

CONDITIONING

For the first few sessions the emphasis is on conditioning more than anything else, but in a short time the preliminaries will be over and the team will settle down to the task at hand.

QUANTICO, THEN WEST

The Knights have their sights set on bettering their 17-4 record of last season, but they have the Quantico

Tournament and the Western swing standing in their way. If the Knights can overcome these obstacles and play the basketball they are capable of playing, they will be owners of one of the proudest season record in the East and this is a very enjoyable position to be in come tournament time next March.

NEWCOMERS

Bolstering the hoopsters hopes are six Sophomores, who displayed their wares last season for the Frosh and they represent the speed and height that will be greatly depended upon during the home stretch.

SENIORS LEAD LEAGUE

This past week the Seniors took over first place from the Sophomores as they had a 3-1 record when this paper went to press.

SOPHS, JUNIORS TIED

The Sophomores and the Juniors are tied for second place each having won 3 and lost 2 games. Previously undefeated, the second year men went to defeat twice losing to the Seniors by a 13-7 score and being bombed by the Juniors who they had previously beaten. They lost to the Juniors 25-7.

JUNIORS WIN

Last week a football double-header was played between the Seniors and the Juniors. The Juniors won the opener as Drew Denmead threw touchdown passes to Bill Kuchar and Frank McCaffrey. The score was 13-7. The second game was playoff of a previous 6-6 tie between the two teams with the '57ers winning on 3 first downs to the Juniors' 2.

On Sunday the Juniors buried Bob Senecal and Co. by a 25-7 score. With Denmead passing and Cashman, McCaffrey, Kuchar and Gorman chasing them down, they were not to be denied. Drew hit Cashman and Kuchar with a TD pass each, and McCaffrey caught two in the end zone.
